

Dear guests,

a warm welcome to our Fischers Fritz Restaurant! We are proud founding members of "Feinheimisch – Genuss aus Schleswig-Holstein e.V.", established in 2007, and passionate supporters of Slow Food. This means that over 60% of our ingredients are sourced fresh from Schleswig-Holstein, and we are committed to delivering the highest quality and authentic enjoyment.

On our menu, you'll find typical North German specialties prepared using products from Schleswig-Holstein. We source these directly from our trusted producers and suppliers in the neighborhood, often picking them up personally. Only when the desired quality is not available in Schleswig-Holstein do we turn to products from nearby regions.

Freshly caught fish is especially close to our hearts, as well as to our head chef, Pierre Binder. We receive our fish directly from the boat or from the Holstein lakes – it doesn't get any fresher! Unfortunately, declining fish stocks and rising procurement costs have posed challenges, requiring us to adjust our prices. However, we assure you that only fresh, artisanally prepared dishes make it to your plate – guaranteed without convenience products.

We kindly ask for your patience when ordering, as quality takes time.

Enjoy your time with us – we're delighted to have you here!

Warm regards,
The Birke Family, Florian Buchebner, and Co-Hosts

Kieler Meeresfarm | Mussels

Dr. Tim Staufenberger, Kristina Hartwig, Nikolai Nissen

The Kieler Meeresfarm GmbH & Co. KG is a regional company established in 2020, specializing in sustainable aquaculture in the Kiel Fjord. On 4 hectares of water, soon to expand to 8 hectares, founders Nikolai Nissen, Dr. Tim Staufenberger, and Kristina Hartwig cultivate blue mussels, seaweed, and soon fish. The farm operates Germany's first Integrated Multi-Trophic Aquaculture (IMTA) system, where nutrients from fish farming are neutralized by harvesting seaweed and mussels.

The blue mussels are grown in a sand-free hanging line culture, providing optimal conditions and a higher meat yield compared to seabed mussels. They are harvested to order, ensuring freshness and quality. Sugar kelp is cultivated during the colder months from October to April and air-dried after harvest.

The Kieler Meeresfarm supplies its organic-certified products to both gastronomy businesses and private customers and is actively involved in various scientific and environmental projects.

Thomas Philipson

Fischerei Brauer | Fish

The fishery southeast of the Kiel Canal is a traditional business with roots dating back to 1854. Since July 2017, it has been run by Thomas Philipson, the sixth generation to lead the family business. For Thomas, 32 years old, fishing is more than just a job – it's his calling. Every morning at 5:00 AM, he heads out onto the canal with enthusiasm to catch fresh fish for his customers. He is supported by his wife, father-in-law, two skilled workers, and a dedicated retiree. The fishery offers a wide variety of freshly caught fish, including eel, zander, trout, flounder, herring, carp, perch, and round goby, depending on the season. A highlight of the year is the annual Herring Festival in spring, which attracts visitors from near and far and makes a trip particularly worthwhile.

Burmeister | Country Butchery

The Burmeister Country Butchery in Viöl, Schleswig-Holstein, is a traditional family-run business now in its fourth generation. Since 1901, they have been producing high-quality meat and sausage specialties in-house, focusing on regionality, craftsmanship, and short transport routes. In addition to beef, pork, and poultry, the butchery offers wild game and lamb, and is the exclusive producer of Uthlande lamb and Galloway products.

Certified with regional and ecological quality seals such as the Schleswig-Holstein Quality Seal and Bioland, the business is also a proud partner of the UNESCO Wadden Sea World Heritage Site. A particular highlight is their processing of Frisiko pork, renowned for its exceptional meat quality and sustainable production. Similarly, Frisiko beef reflects a commitment to animal welfare and the highest standards of meat quality.

Brötzmann | Fruits & vegetables

For over 50 years, the Kiel-based family business Brötzmann has been on the road daily, supplying discerning restaurateurs across Schleswig-Holstein with premium ingredients. And we are proud to be one of them.

Their high-quality products come primarily from regional producers, ensuring short transport routes and ultra-fresh deliveries!

Doris Schuster

Obstquelle Schuster | Apples

At the farm in the protected Schwentinental near the Rasdorfer Mill, arable and pasture farming was practiced until 1960. The first fruit trees were planted in the late 19th century by shipyard owner Howaldt. In the 1970s, Doris Schuster's parents established a commercial orchard with a focus on apple trees. Today, the family grows pome, stone, and berry fruits on approximately 9,000 trees. We source our delicious apple juice and apples directly from them.

Lille | Brewery

Founded in 2018, lille Brauerei from Kiel is an emerging regional premium brewery known for its craft-brewed beer specialties. With a focus on regionality, sustainability, and innovative recipes, lille blends traditional brewing methods with creative ideas.

Their beers, made without pasteurization or filtration, offer maximum flavor. Alongside classics like Pilsner and Pale Ale, the brewery surprises with seasonal and limited-edition brews. Deeply rooted in the local community, lille has quickly established itself in the German craft beer scene.

Thies Aderhold

Hof Aderhold

Hof Aderhold | Eggs

Happy hens? While this can't be guaranteed in every case, ideal conditions are certainly provided: Whether free-range or organic, the hens at Aderhold farm in Kiel-Schlüsbek have significantly more space than required. They can roam freely between outdoor scratching areas, feeding spots, nesting boxes, and a large meadow. Controlled lighting and ventilation in the barns, along with enrichment activities like pecking stones or hay bales, and ten hours of nightly rest, ensure balanced hens and eggs of the highest quality.

On the Aderhold farm, around 12,000 Lohmann Brown laying hens live in conventional free-range conditions, while an additional 6,000 hens are raised according to strict ecological standards and the EU organic guidelines.

Ziegenhof Rehder | Goat Cheese

The family business in Boksee, south of Kiel, began in 1979 with the establishment of a goat herd and the delivery of milk to a dairy. Since 1983, they have been producing goat cheese themselves, including fresh cheese, Camembert, semi-hard cheese, Tilsiter, and the Bokseer Hartjekees. In 2012, Janne Olaf Rehder took over the business from his father and modernized the cheese dairy. The milk is gently pasteurized, and cheese production is done by hand. The business has been repeatedly recognized by the magazine Der Feinschmecker for its excellence.

Backensholz | Cheese

The Hofkäserei Backensholz is located in a picturesque area between the North Sea and Schleswig, surrounded by lush green meadows and salty sea air. For over 30 years, it has been producing high-quality raw milk cheese from the farm's own cow's milk, made according to strict Bioland standards. The family business, now in its fourth generation, has a clear goal: to work in cycles and give back more to nature than it takes.

With a team of around 100 employees, the entire farm operates hand in hand—from agriculture to the biogas plant, which has been heating all the buildings environmentally friendly for nearly 20 years. This also includes a farm kindergarten, a restaurant with a farm shop, and the cheese dairy, where the traditional craft of cheese-making is maintained by hand.

The raw milk cheese produced at Backensholz is known for its rich, intense flavor, which results from the unpasteurized milk. Each cheese variety is developed with time and care, as evidenced by the regular awards at the World Cheese Awards. The family business proves that top-quality cheese can be found in the far north of Germany, and they are eager to convince their customers of this.

WINE & DINE

WINE AND DINE seit 2004

Since 2004, we have been welcoming top German and international winemakers at the "Birke" several times a year. They present their philosophy, the unique qualities of their wines, and share stories about their work and the challenges of life at the winery. The events are entertainingly moderated by our wine partner in Kiel, Jan Peter Marxen (Marxen/Wein). After the aperitif, we serve you a special 5-course menu featuring local delicacies from our Fischers Fritz Restaurant. Alongside the menu, you will enjoy two tasting glasses, one with a German wine and the other with an international wine.

WINE AND DINE

- 1x Aperitif and finger food as a welcome
- Expert presentation of the 5 selected wines by the guest winemaker
- Moderation and wine presentation of the 5 accompanying wines by our sommelier
- 1x 5-course menu including mineral water for the event

Your ticket to this culinary event is available for €146.00 from one of our co-hosts or online at www.winendine.de.

Our tip: It's best to book a hotel room directly as well. That way, you can enjoy the spa area in the afternoon, simply fall into bed after the event, and start the next day with a hearty breakfast.

HISTORY

NORTHERN GERMAN HOSPITALITY WITH TRADITION

1773 The story of the Birke begins with a wealthy wheelwright who, in 1773, purchased a cottage with a cabbage farm in the village of Hasseldieksdamm near Kiel. Nestled in greenery and close to the sea, this marked the beginning of what would become a rich history.

1802 The wheelwright was granted a tavern license by the Danish Royal Rent Chamber. Together with his wife, he opened a small pub, as the growing village provided new business opportunities. The pub's cook gained fame across Kiel for her pancakes, which she tossed high into the air and caught skillfully in her pan. Many Kiel residents would take weekend walks to savor her creations. This earned the tavern the name "Pannkokenkrog" (Pancake Tavern).

1902 Friedrich Arp replaced the cottage with a half-timbered building featuring 20 hotel rooms, 2 dance halls, a beer garden, and a riding stable. The establishment was renamed "Waldesruh."

1957 At the end of World War II, the building was confiscated by the British. Later, Eduard and Gertrud Birke purchased the Waldesruh, renovating and modernizing it. Together with their family, they transformed it into a popular and successful venue for outings and dances.

1971 The Birke family leased out the Waldesruh and built the Hotel Birke-Waldesruh on an adjacent property, starting with 13 rooms and 20 beds. Two years later, the hotel was expanded by an additional 7 rooms.

1979 Rainer Birke, the son, took over the hotel, now offering 20 rooms and 31 beds.

1981 The hotel was expanded with an attic, increasing capacity to 33 rooms and 49 beds. Two years later, another 6 rooms were added, bringing the total to 39 rooms.

1985 Significant expansions included 18 more rooms, a sauna, a solarium, a fitness room, an elevator, a hotel bar, and a conference room. The Waldesruh tavern was leased again, and its apartments were converted into holiday flats.

2002 Due to high demand, the hotel underwent a major expansion. Additions included 25 air-conditioned rooms, an event area, a business center, the Fischers Fritz restaurant, and the Birke Day Spa. The project was completed in the winter of 2005.

After the lease with the last tenants ended, the Spiegel Hall and the restaurant at Waldesruh were extensively renovated to revive the tradition of festive celebrations. By summer, the Waldesruh was once again a premier venue for hosting events.

2007

The "Feinheimisch – Genuss aus Schleswig-Holstein e.V." association was founded in collaboration with six other restaurateurs.

2010 The Birke joined the initiative "Kiel's Good Addresses," a network of over 20 local businesses committed to personal responsibility and quality.

2011 Present Ongoing renovations and modernizations have enhanced the property continuously.

2017 To elevate the culinary experience, the Fischers Fritz kitchen was expanded. Alongside this, 12 new partially accessible rooms were built, the lobby and fireplace lounge were enlarged, and the parking lot was redesigned.

2020 The extension was completed, including a sun terrace, outdoor areas, a new fireplace lounge, 12 additional rooms and suites, expanded kitchen and storage spaces, and three new electric charging stations.

2021 Plans began for a new conference room in the Hofholzallee outbuilding. Additionally, 8 hotel rooms were converted into spacious double rooms and suites, and further energy efficiency measures were implemented.

2023 The new conference room "Passat" was opened, adding a modern space for meetings and events.
